David Hughlitt, of 10th and Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, says: "I have found Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup a positive cure for coughs and colds, especially where the cough is hard and distressing. It heals the throat and cures the inflammation. It is the best medicine I have ever used for diseases of the throat and lungs." REFUSE CHEAP SUBSTITUTES

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 21, 1904.

The Raise in Prices of Food. Take any commodity you please-a loaf of bread,-and trace it back. The baker got his flour from an agent of a flour trust. The flour trust got its wheat from a grain elevator trust, and its barrel from a cooperage trust, which got its lumber from a lumber trust and its nails from a nail trust. The machinery, by means of which the wheat was ground and the barrel was cut out and put together and the nails were stamped, came from various machinery trusts. These machinery trusts were in turn supplied by sundry iron and steel "combines," and they, again, depended upon certain mining monopolies. At every stage railways were used,—and railway competities to the stage of the st tion has been worse than abolished, what with the pooling and secret rebate arrangements.

Now, upon each of these many, many trusts that united to make that loaf of bread possible you will find saddled enormous fixed charges. In most cases the greater part of their fixed charges is dividends and interest upon stocks and bonds that represent not a dollar invested in the industry!

in the industry! Follow back each and every article in Follow back each and every article in common use, and you will find the same state of affairs. When you go to your butcher and he tells you that meat is five cents a pound higher than it was last week, you are able to understand why. Last week's price was the proper price under proper conditions plus the taxes and tolls of all the various intermediate compliants trusts consolidations. mediary combines, trusts, consolidations monopolies, and what-nots. This week's increased price means that those tolls have been raised. Why have they been raised? Perhaps it is just because some fellow in control "needed the money." Perhaps his workmen had forced him to raise wages, or perhaps he had had a bad week in the wheat pit or at Wall street's green tables. In the town from which I come, a small manufacturer. many years ago, went abroad to study church architecture with a view to helping his church house itself properly. On his return he cut the wages of his em-ployes to pay the expenses of the trip and his subscription to the new temple. Doubtless he would have raised prices if he could, but those were the days when there was some faint competition worthy of the name. -[David Graham Phillips in the May "Success."

Fatal Affray.

College, Kentucky, a well-known colored institution of learing in the south, that he will give them fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the law on the statute books of Kentucky and other States, forbidding the education of white and negro children in the same schools. The reason for the sudden desire manifested by Mr. Carnegie to have white and colored children sit on the same school beuches is not stated. Of course, the offer will be accepted, and the fight for mixed schools will be inaugurated.

Robbed the Grave A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coaled, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed at E. S. Leadbezter & Sons' drug store.
